Focus on getting and retaining the talented

COMPANIES at all sizes face a distrance set of challenges when seeking growth but ensuring that Tech worker is a major about of attainment. The Role and the demand is to help challenges is strong in Singaical, pharmaceutical and oil-refin-dustries, including the petrochem-ate into opportunities for SMEs are trained as an energy manager says. "You need engineers who skills and knowledge because of ing sector requires a unique set of efficiency within the manufacturvery specific to that industry consumes a lot of energy and is different applications. There is proficiencies.

SEAS chairman Edwin Khew. their clients come from, says have to meet a wide range of expertise, and clean energy SMEs levels.

Besides promoting green busi-young talents.

Jobs in the sustainable energy industry meet evolving standards. these challenges also transbers attract young talent to their looking at ways to help their mem-MEANWHILE, other TACs are ied from the programmes is CPG "The collaboration between make a big difference in the its retraining programs. They
"The company can co-brand with upgrading of their skills."

"The company can co-brand
the participants an opportuni-utilise our manpower and keep this is a good way to nurture "Although the team did not win, with upgrading of their skills."

"This is a good way to nurture the industry can attract and retaining the talented