Investments help prof retire before 40

Former academic lives simply, spending time, money on charity work

At just 45, Dr Tham Wai Mun is already five years into retirement and enjoying every minute of it. She has no worries about her later years. A few days after the Japanese surrender, a Japanese soldier told him to quickly spend all the money.

Dr Tham Wai Mun, at 45, is already five years into retirement. She does not hold a credit card or own a car and currently has seven insurance policies, including two critical illness plans.

Dr Tham, who is single, is also the manager of the school management committee of the World Red Swastika Society. She is a management committee member and the head of meditation and propagation ministries (for women). She is living it up but not in the way you imagine. I think money is a medium of exchange. That is my true function. It is a medium of exchange. It has value, and is a great source of satisfaction. I think money is a medium of exchange.

I have surrendered my credit cards. I don’t want to spend too much time monitoring it. It’s okay to let go of the investment. For me, there are three goals to my retirement plan. I know land banking is

I was influenced by my mum who was rather shrewd in stretching the dollars we had as she strived to produce their report cards. She didn’t want to do so because the Japanese were only 16 years old. He didn’t want to do so because he knew that the Japanese were only 16 years old. It is a medium of exchange that I have been using. My main job during the undergraduate days and I experienced that period of financial difficulty when he had to take care of his mother and father. It was during this time that I опылт to produce their report cards. For me, there are three goals to my retirement plan. I have invested in stocks and shares, and insurance. It is a medium of exchange.

Q: What is your best investment to date? A: A Burberry bag that was on sale. It was a few days after the Japanese surrender. A Japanese soldier told him to quickly spend all the money.

Dr Tham Wai Mun, at 45, is already five years into retirement. She has seven insurance policies, including two critical illness plans.

Q: What is your best investment to date? A: I inherited an HDB flat in the east of Singapore. I have managed to call it quits just before I turned 40.

Dr Tham Wai Mun is already five years into retirement. She does not hold a credit card or own a car and currently has seven insurance policies, including two critical illness plans.

Q: How much do you charge for your spiritual services and your translations? A: I charge by translation work. I did not have to touch my NTU savings at all. I had planned to start at 40 but managed to call it quits just before I turned 40.

Dr Tham Wai Mun is already five years into retirement. She does not hold a credit card or own a car and currently has seven insurance policies, including two critical illness plans.

Q: What is your best investment to date? A: A Burberry bag that was on sale. It was a few days after the Japanese surrender. A Japanese soldier told him to quickly spend all the money.

Dr Tham Wai Mun, at 45, is already five years into retirement. She does not hold a credit card or own a car and currently has seven insurance policies, including two critical illness plans.

Q: What is your best investment to date? A: A Burberry bag that was on sale. It was a few days after the Japanese surrender. A Japanese soldier told him to quickly spend all the money.

Dr Tham Wai Mun, at 45, is already five years into retirement. She does not hold a credit card or own a car and currently has seven insurance policies, including two critical illness plans.

Q: What is your best investment to date? A: A Burberry bag that was on sale. It was a few days after the Japanese surrender. A Japanese soldier told him to quickly spend all the money.

Dr Tham Wai Mun, at 45, is already five years into retirement. She does not hold a credit card or own a car and currently has seven insurance policies, including two critical illness plans.

Q: What is your best investment to date? A: A Burberry bag that was on sale. It was a few days after the Japanese surrender. A Japanese soldier told him to quickly spend all the money.

Dr Tham Wai Mun, at 45, is already five years into retirement. She does not hold a credit card or own a car and currently has seven insurance policies, including two critical illness plans.

Q: What is your best investment to date? A: A Burberry bag that was on sale. It was a few days after the Japanese surrender. A Japanese soldier told him to quickly spend all the money.

Dr Tham Wai Mun, at 45, is already five years into retirement. She does not hold a credit card or own a car and currently has seven insurance policies, including two critical illness plans.

Q: What is your best investment to date? A: A Burberry bag that was on sale. It was a few days after the Japanese surrender. A Japanese soldier told him to quickly spend all the money.

Dr Tham Wai Mun, at 45, is already five years into retirement. She does not hold a credit card or own a car and currently has seven insurance policies, including two critical illness plans.

Q: What is your best investment to date? A: A Burberry bag that was on sale. It was a few days after the Japanese surrender. A Japanese soldier told him to quickly spend all the money.

Dr Tham Wai Mun, at 45, is already five years into retirement. She does not hold a credit card or own a car and currently has seven insurance policies, including two critical illness plans.

Q: What is your best investment to date? A: A Burberry bag that was on sale. It was a few days after the Japanese surrender. A Japanese soldier told him to quickly spend all the money.