MESSAGE FROM UNIVERSITY OF BIRMINGHAM

Dear Graduates

It is with the greatest of pleasure that I welcome you to the graduation ceremony of the University of Birmingham in Singapore.

The University has had a long association with Singapore. The MBA was first taught here in January 1993. This year we take great pleasure in celebrating the thirteenth anniversary of our partnership with SIM. In 2009, we launched the BSc Management programme and since then the partnership has grown considerably offering both undergraduate and postgraduate programmes. SIM's excellent teaching and learning facilities, allied to the quality of the teaching faculty from Birmingham, provide an educational experience which will prepare you well for the challenges of today's global economy.

Of course, today is a celebration of your achievements and we are very pleased to see so many of you mark the fruition of your studies. We hope you will enjoy this special day. We are proud to have you as graduands and look forward to hearing from you as your careers progress. We see today not only as the culmination of all your hard work, but also the beginning of a long alumni relationship with the University of Birmingham.

Congratulations to you all.
